To

James S. Lakin

a most generous benefactor of the West Virginia University, who has helped to make possible the continued growth of the University, this book is gratefully dedicated by the class of 1923.

Life of James S. Lakin.

James Sansome Lakin, President of the State Board of Control, which has charge of the financial and business affairs of the West Virginia University was born at Moundsville, W. Va., the son of the Rev. Calvin H. and Catherine Finney Lakin. He is a direct descendant of Abraham Lakin, (born 1713, died 1796), who received from King George of England title deeds for a tract of land in Frederick County, Maryland, which has passed from father to son through many generations and is still in the Lakin name, being now the homestead of William Gerry Lakin.

James S. received his education in Fairmont State Normal School, at Fairmont, W. Va., and Ohio Wesleyan University, at Delaware, Ohio. While attending the last named institution he met a young lady student named Lura Olivia Lakin, daughter of George W Lakin of Columbus, Ohio who became his wife on November 14, 1889. To them three children have been born, James Offut, Marion Elizabeth and Florence Catherine.

For a number of years Mr. Lakin was engaged in the mercantile and timber business with headquarters at Terra Alta, W. Va. He was president of the First National Bank of Terra Alta and a Director of the Terra Alta Bank. His interest and activity in politics and public affairs have been of the most ardent nature. He was for several terms a member of the Republican Executive Committee of Preston County. In 1912 he was Chairman of the Republican State Committee, and in 1920 he was elected a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago and represented West Virginia there as a member of the "Big Four" Delegation. In 1900 he was appointed by Governor Albert B. White as a Director of the West Virginia Asylum at Huntington, W. Va., and was reappointed in 1904 by Governor W. M. O. Dawson. In 1905 he was a candidate on the Republican Ticket for Congress in the 2nd Congressional District of West Virginia, to succeed Hon. A. G. Dayton who had been appointed to a Federal Judgeship, but was defeated by a very narrow margin by Col. Thomas B. Davis of Keyser, W. Va. His service as a member of the Board of Directors of the West Virginia Asylum and his other business qualifications led Governor W. E. Glasscock to appoint him in 1909 as one of the three members of the newly created State Board of Control, which was to have charge of the business and financial affairs of all State Educational Institutions and the complete control and management of all of West Virginia's Penal, Charitable and Correctional Institutions. He has been a member of that Board ever since, having been reappointed in July 1921 by Governor E. F. Morgan for his third consecutive term. When the Board first organized on July 1, 1909, he was elected President and has served in that executive capacity continuously excepting the four years of Governor John J. Cornwell's administration. In addition to these duties, he was appointed by Governor Cornwell as a member of the State Mental Hygiene Commission.

Mr. Lakin is identified with the activities of the First M. E. Church of Charleston. He is a 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason, a Knight Templar, a Noble of the Mystic Shrine, a member of Charleston Lodge B. P. O. Elks, and of the Knights of Pythias and the Edgewood Country Club.

Immediately after the Spanish American War, Mr. Lakin was authorized along with Dr. Buckner Fairfax Scott by Governor George Wesley Atkinson to organize Company M. of the First West Virginia Infantry, National Guards.

Proposed New Building Campaign.

At the beginning of the World War the enrollment of West Virginia University began to grow by leaps and bounds and the necessity for more buildings, for several years apparent, became critical. Class rooms were to be found in every "nook and cranny" and all classes were too large for efficient work by the instructors. The cry went up from the students, professors and everyone connected with the school for more room and their cry was heard.

In 1919, through the efforts of President Frank B. Trotter and the State Board of Control, measures were passed by the State legislative bodies appropriating sums of money for a new law building, a gymnasium which has been needed here for years, and a new chemistry building. These appropriations were for ample sums and the buildings are to be constructed to take care of what is thought to be a possible maximum enrollment. On the following pages may be found the pictures along with descriptions of the buildings that are to be constructed and ground has already been broken for the law building. With these three new buildings the congestion will be somewhat relieved but it will only be a matter of a very short time before new buildings will be needed for the music school and the department of education. The building containing the medical school was built only recently but these courses have become so popular that it is overflowing and students are being turned away.

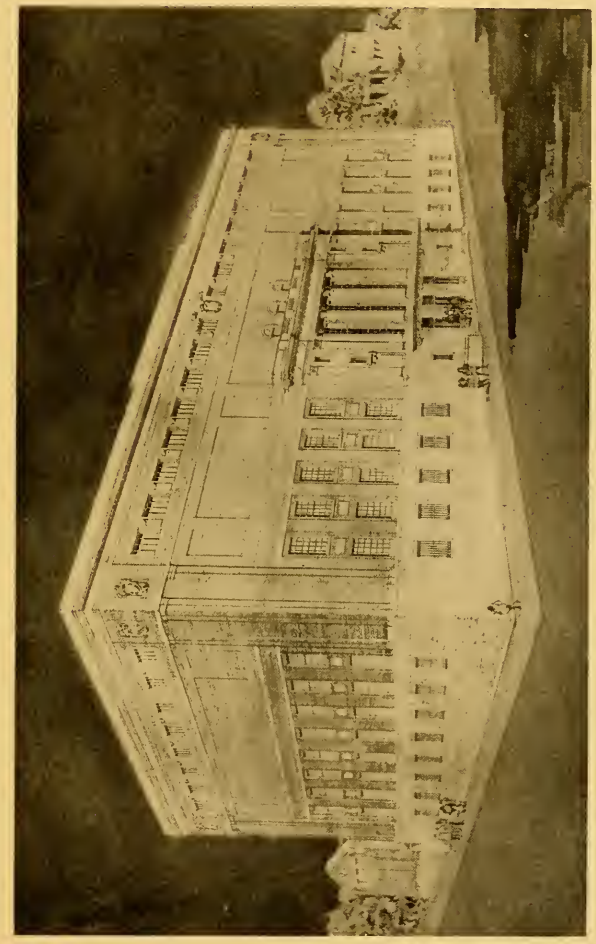
The present athletic field has long been inadequate and ground has been broken under and below the Sunnyside Bridge for a new one. A large concrete drain has been constructed to take care of the water of Falling Run and a part of the ground has been leveled. It is not definitely known as to what sort of construction this will be but we think that we would not be far amiss if we were to state that before very many football seasons roll by, the alumni and undergrads may be seated in the West Virginia Stadium with a seating capacity of twenty five thousand and our famous "splinter stadium" will be laid to rest. Let us all boost for our new buildings, new stadium and Greater West Virginia University.

The New Gymnasium.

The need of a new gymnasium here has been felt for many years, in fact the gymnasium that we now have has never been large enough to supply the needs of a student body one-tenth as large as we now have. Physical training is a strange term here because there has never been a place for more than fifty men at a time.

These conditions were so forcibly impressed on those in charge that plans have been made and perfected for one of the most complete gymnasiums in this section of the country. The site of the building will be on the corner of Prospect and High streets, easily accessible to the present athletic field. The building should be up-to-date in every respect with lockers to accommodate a large number of students in excess of what is now enrolled. The large floor will hold a basket ball court twice as large as the present one in the "Ark" and also bleachers to accommodate five thousand spectators. some idea of the size of the building can be obtained from the fact that the indoor track shall be only eleven laps to the mile.

The style of architecture shall conform to the general plan of the newer buildings will be fireproof throughout. Swimming pools will be located in the rear of the building, a separate pool for the men and for the women. The height of the building shall be four stories with the main playing floor on the second with the bleachers running into the upper floors. It shall contain the offices of the director of athletics and the coaches. It is not definitely known as to what time the building will be completed but it would be safe to predict that it will not be longer than two years.



The New Law Building.

Although the College of Law was the first professional school upon the campus of West Virginia University, it is the latest school to acquire a building exclusively for its own purposes. In 1919, the State legislature appropriated a substantial sum for the construction of a law building. In 1921, the legislature supplemented the amount formerly appropriated thus providing a sum sufficient not only to construct the building according to the approved plans but also to acquire additional ground for a site for the building The site is now on Front Street immediately south of the President's house. Alumni and former students of the College of Law, the West Virginia Bar Association and the University administration joined in convincing the legislature of the necessity for this appropriation. Henry Craig Jones, at that time dean of the College of Law, both inspired the movement for the new building and, with the architect, Mr. Charles M Bates of Wheeling, worked out most of the plans for the building. All modern law school buildings were inspected either by visiting them or by securing plans of their structures, and the advice of law teachers and law librarians was secured and advantage taken of their suggestions.

On April 1, 1922, the Board of Control of West Virginia awarded the contracts for the construction of the new building. It is to be one hundred and forty-four feet in length, fifty-six feet in minimum width and three stories in height, provision to be made for a mezzanine floor throughout one half of the upper story of the building. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete with hard brick exterior, limestone trimming, and tile roof, and will be fireproof throughout. The style of architecture will conform in general to the more recently constructed University buildings. A wide portico and six dormer windows along the front of the building will suggest Virginia and West Virginia court houses of the past century.

Provision is made on the ground floor for a locker room and a student club-room where conversation and reading of the daily papers, etc., may be done. A room will also be available for typewriting. In addition, the men's toilet room, the librarian's packing room, the storage room, and the machinery room will be on the ground floor. The class room floor will contain two large class rooms, a smaller class room and a modern Practice Court room, as well as a rest room and toilet room for women students. Each of the large class rooms will accomodate more than one hundred students for instruction and about two hundred for general meetings.

At the landing on the stairway half way between the class room floor and the library floor will be placed life size oil portraits of Professors Brook and Willey, the first two members of the law faculty On the library floor will be the large reading room, the stack room, and the offices of the professors, the dean, the secretary, and the librarian. The ceiling in the library room will be twenty feet high. Around the stack room, over the offices, will be a mezzanine floor which will be used as an addition to the reading room. There will be space on the library floor for approximately fifty five thousand volumes of law books. An electric book lift will be used to transfer books from the packing room on the ground floor to the librarian's station and to and from the Practice Court room and the class room floor.

The contracts provide that the building shall be ready for occupancy not later than June 1, 1923. When completed it will be the most modern of the law school buildings of the country, embodying the best features of the others and will no doubt be the source of great pride on the part of the faculty, students and alumni not only of the law school but of the whole University. It should increase the usefulness of the law school to the legal profession and the public of the State of West Virginia.

The New Chemistry Building.

The general form of architecture is Georgian, which conforms with Woman's Hall and Oglebay Hall. The broad expanse of the front will be relieved by two sets of stone columns over each entrance and over these columns will be placed a few designs of chemical significance. In the frieze between the third and fourth floors stones will be cut with the names of noted chemists. Stone and brick will be used for the outside of the building, brick for the inside walls and finished concrete for the floors and ceilings. The building will be fireproof throughout.

It will have a splendid location, south of the Library on the White property, fronting on that new portion of the campus. It will extend 305 feet on Prospect Street and will be 76 feet deep. The main portion of the building will be 253 feet by 76 feet and the remaining portion will be a large lecture auditorium at the west end of the building, equal in height to two stories. There will be four floors, a basement under the entire building and a serviceable attic. Briefly the basement will take care of the general service of the building and will have ample store rooms, unpacking room, grinding, janitor, gasometer, constant temperature, locker, toillet, shop and fan rooms. There will also be one small laboratory for general chemistry in the basement. The first floor will be given up to general chemistry and physical chemistry, with special store rooms, one lecture room beginning on this floor and extending through the second floor, recitation rooms, offices, private laboratories and balance rooms. The second floor is essentially for the first courses in chemistry also, including laboratories, recitation rooms, offices, private laboratories, balance rooms, etc. The general distribution room will be on this floor also. The third floor is planned to care for the general offices of the department and all work in analytical chemistry, including qualitative, quantitative, and electro analysis. The library on this floor will be arranged for organic chemistry and its applications. There will be, in addition to the regular laboratories, special laboratories for combustions and digestions and medium sized research laboratories to accommodate small groups of advanced students. Sufficient arrangements for offices, store rooms, etc., have been made. The attic will accommodate the hydrogen sulphide room, the distilled water room, and all the fans for pulling out the fumes from the entire building.

The new chemistry building has been planned to accommodate in the neighborhood of two thousand five hundred students, a building that will take care of an ordinary enrollment of about five thousand.

'T was little we knew of our future destiny on that nineteenth day of September in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Twenty One, when seven hundred strong we first tread the venerable halls of West Virginia University in search of higher learning. How vivid is the remembrances of that final struggle to collect our courage as we passed beneath the direful portals which led to the awe inspiring registrar. But all things have an end and so it was with our early trials. It was only ten days after registration that a meeting of the class was called for the purpose of organizing. Because the Commencement Hall was engaged for the evening there was only enough time to elect a president at that meting. Four days later the newly-elected President called another meeting of the class in order to complete the organization. It was at this meeting that the Student Council informed us regarding our conduct as Freshmen during the remainder of the year.

Perhaps the event that brought the greatest joy to our youthful hearts was the glory that we won by defeating the Sophomores in the Annual Cane Rush. It may be said that this battle royal displayed the adeptness of both sides in the use of camouflage, we Freshmen using shoe polish while our most worthy opponents attempted to destroy our disguise by means of cornmeal bombs. Of course we were unusually disappointed when it was learned that the Freshmen caps would not arrive until late in October. Owing to the large size of our class we anticipated trouble in having our picture taken for the year book, and it was arranged that each group of eight should have one representative in the picture. This has been said for the benefit of those who may possibly inquire concerning the true number of our class.

Our football team had a very successful season after the lineup became definitely settled; in fact the team showed unusual strength at the close of the schedule as was shown by the easy manner in which it defeated its foes at that time. Considering the material available, the Freshman basketball schedule proved successful also. The class of '25 can boast of contributing several of the most promising candidates for the track squad this year. In addition to these honors there were two Freshmen on the 'Varsity football team and several Freshmen were substitutes for the 'Varsity.

ACTIVITIES

Society Notes.

SIGMA NU

Gamma Pi of Sigma Nu entertained with a Christmas party on the evening of December 17. The house on Walnut street was prettily decorated with the season's regalias. During the evening Santa Claus appeared and gave to each guest a present from the tree that stood in the hall. Nick White's Band from Clarksburg furnished the music. Refreshments were served at Communtzis' at the conclusion of the dance.

The Spring party of the Sigma Nu fraternity was held May 6th, at their home on Walnut street. The house was decorated to suit the occasion with wild flowers and white roses. Dancing was the work of the evening and after a long and tedious spell the guests adjourned to Communtizis Brothers establishment for the usual "Tea-Hound" rations. Ed Barrett's Harmony Teasers furnished the music.

PHI SIGMA NU

On Friday evening, February tenth, Alpha chapter of Phi Sigma Nu was entertained with an informal dance given by Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Kessel and Dr. Edward J. Van Liere. Decorations were carried out to represent the scene of the Ball des Internes, an annual ball given by the medical students of Paris. Refreshments were served throughout the evening and the guests were showered with confetti and paper streamers. The music for a program of twelve numbers was furnished by Schroeder's Orchestra.

PHI SIGMA NU

Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Nu was entertained on Friday evening, May twelfth with a formal dance at Elks' Home. The fraternity colors were the decorations. Punch was served throughout the evening and during a short intermission refreshments were servd. Music for a program of twelve numbers was furnished by Schroeder's Orchestra.

THE JUNIOR PROM

One of the most brilliant social functions of the year was completed April 21, at the Armory, when the members of the Junior Class entertained with an elaborate reception and dance, the annual Junior Promenade, honoring the members of the Senior Class of this year. More than three hundred couples from this and neighboring states were included in the guest list and event was one of the most successful of its kind given here. The Armory was attractive with profuse decorations of old gold and blue, and the colors blending with those in the beautifull shades of the gowns worn by the dancers gave a pretty effect. A delightful program of 16 dances was played by "The Pan-Harmonic Serenaders" of McKeesport, Pa. During the intermission elegant refreshments were served by the Boston Confectionery, local caterers. The programs were encased in handsome card cases of dark blue leather decorated in gold and bearing the name of the class and numerals of gold.

THE MILITARY BALL

The annual Military Ball was held February sixth, in the Armory. It was one of the most successful dances ever held in the Armory here and the decorations surpassed anything of previous years. The Armory was arrayed in all its glory, the entire dance hall being beautifully decorated with old gold and blue, pennants and flags. Many electrical effects were used. The music was furnished by the Mason Dixon Seven, West Virginia's premier orchestra. A delicious luncheon was served during the intermission.

ALPHA THETA ZETA

On Saturday evening, November nineteeth, the members of Alpha Theta Zeta entertained with an informal dance. The rooms were attractively decorated, using a background of pink cherry blossoms against a wall of green. The "Phi Kap Five" furnished the music for twelve dances and two extras. During an intermission refreshments were served. The guests were presented with leather bill folders.

ALPHA XI DELTA PREP PARTY

The Alpha Xi Delta "preps" gave the active chapter a most delightful Hallowe'en Party at the home of Mrs. Max Mathers on Park street. The decorations, refreshments, and favors imparted the mystic feeling of the season. About thirty couples enjoyed the festivities.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Gamma Delta Chapter held its first party December 3 at the house at 660 High street. Barrett's Orchestra furnished the music and a delightful program of twelve dances were enjoyd by the thirty-five couples that were present.

KAPPA ALPHA

On Saturday evening, December seventeenth Alpha Rho chapter of Kappa Alpha entertained with a Christmas party at their house at 670 High street. The decorations were in keeping with Christmas festivities, pine, holly and mistletoe being used profusely thoughout the chapter rooms. Edgar Barrett's Orchestra played the music for a delightful program of twelve dances. During the intermission elegant refreshments were served.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The pledges of the chapter entertained the older girls on Friday night, October twenty-eighth with a lovely party. Dinner was served at the Old Home Tea Room. After the dinner an informal dance was held at the home of Miss Hope Demain on High street. The music was furnished by the "Phi Kap Orchestra." The decorations were very effective in keeping with the Hallowe'en season.

PI BETA PHI

The active members and pledges of Pi Beta Phi entertained Saturday evening, November nineteenth, with an informal dance at their home on University Driveway. A splendid program of ten dances and two extras was played by Barrett's Orchestra. At ten-thirty refreshments were served. The rooms were artistically decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season. Over the mantel in the front living room hung a large arrow of wine and silver blue, which was effectively lighted.

PHI SIGMA NU

On Friday evening October twenty-eigth the active members and pledges of Alpha Chapter of Phi Sigma Nu were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Morris with an informal dance at the Elk's Home. The rooms were beautifully decorated with the fraternity colors and streamers. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. Music for the twelve dances was furnished by Cook's Orchestra.

THETA CHI

The members of Alpha Kappa chapter of Theta Chi entertained on Saturday evening, December third with a dance at their chapter house. The rooms were very attractively decorated with red and white carnations, ferns, and palms. The Phi Kap Five furnished the music for a program of twelve dances. The programs were small card cases bearing the fraternity seal. About thirty-five couples were present. During an intermission refreshments were served .

ALPHA XI DELTA

The first formal party took place at the chapter house, January fourteenth. The decorations gave the effect of a recent snow storm. Mr. Snow-Man smilingly greeted the forty guests as they entered. Candles placed in the drifts shed a soft glow over all. During the intermission an ice course was served. Peppy music was furnished by Hall's Orchestra.

DELTA TAU DELTA

On March 31, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hutchinson of Fairmont entertained the active chapter and alumni with a formal dinner dance at the Fairmont Country Club. Attractive programs of fans and bill folders were used. During the dinner beautiful corsages were given the ladies as souvenirs. Wiedemeyer's Orchestra from Huntington furnished the music.

BETA THETA PI

In addition to several delightful dinner parties and smokers the members of Beta Psi Chapter entertained twice during the year at the Chapter House on Foundry street. The informal dance of the first semester was held on December nineteenth just prior to the Christmas holidays. The house was decorated in the spirit of the season and a large tree was laden with gifts for the guests. The formal dance of the second semester was held on March fifteenth. Barrett's Orchestra furnishing a delightful program of twelve dances. In honor of the old men the preps entertained with a pig roast during the second semester.

KAPPA ALPHA SPRING DANCE

Tasteful decorations and the splendid program rendered by Nelson Maple's Orchestra made the second semester formal party of Kappa Alpha a success. Active members and their guests gathered at the Chapter House on North High street at six o'clock when a delightful dinner was served. Dancing was the principal diversion through the remaining hours of the evening.

ANNUAL ROSE DANCE

The Alpha Xi Delta Chapter House on Willey street was a veritable rose bower on this occasion with the pink rose of the fraternity predominating in the elaborate decorations. The guests were showered with rose petals during the evening and from the first dance until the final strains of "The Rose of Alpha Xi" the affair was most enjoyable. At eleven o'clock a light luncheon was served.

PI BETA PHI

A party of beautiful appointments was the dance given in honor of West Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Beta Phi by Mrs. H. L. Carspecken at her home in Grand street, South Park, on Friday evening, January thirteenth. The fraternity colors of wine and silver-blue were carried out in the decorations. Schroeder's Orchestra furnished a delightful program of ten regular and two extra dances.

KAPPA PICNIC

The annual Kappa picnic was held on the twentieth of May at Oak Park. Dancing, boating and other diversions featured the afternoon. Barrett's Orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

PHI KAPPA SIGMA

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma opened its social season on Saturday, November fifth, when the first semester party was held at the Chapter House, 170 McLane avenue. Artistic decorations of old gold and black, the fraternity's colors, were arranged in a pleasing manner. During the intermission a delightful luncheon was served, after which dancing continued until midnight. Barrett's Orchestra furnished the music for a program of twelve dances.

Honoring the active members the preps entertained with a dance of pretty appointments on Saturday, February fourth, at the Chapter House. Being held during the holidays between semesters many visiting Alumni and friends of the members were present.

By far the most successful event of the Chapter season was the spring party held on Saturday, May sixth. Novel electrical arrangements featured the decoration, which were very unique, and the many-colored lights added to the attractiveness of the scheme. Schroeder's Orchestra furnished a program of twelve regular dances.

TORCH AND SERPENT

With Waring's Orchestra, of Tyrone, Pa., furnishing splendid music the formal dance given by the members of the Torch and Serpent Honorary Society ot the Armory on Wednesday evening, December twenty-first, in honor of the pledges and members of the 'Varsity football tam was in many respects one of the most successful affairs of the year. Red and black, the society colors, were taste fully used in the decorations. After the full program of sixteen dances had been completed the guests were served an laborate luncheon at Communtzis'. In addition to the formal dance several informal "snake glides" were held at the Elks.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

On the night of January fourteenth the members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority held their formal party at the House on Kirk street. A "Kappa" special featured the dance program of twelve regular and two extra dances which was furnished by Barrett's Old Gold and Blue Orchestra. The Kappa colors of dark blue and light blue were used effectively in the decorations.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

On December seventeenth the Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa entertained its friends with a dinner and dance at its home at 672 High street. A beautifully appointed dinner was served at The Old Home Tea Room. The Phi Kap Orchestra furnished the music for a program of twelve dances. The house was decorted in keeping with the spirit of the Yuletide.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa entertained with a dinner dance at its home on N. High street on March twenty-fifth. A delightful five-course dinner was served at The Old Home Tea Room. The dining room was decorated in fratrnity colors and leather-covered programs were to be found at each plate. Music was furnished by Schroeder's Orchestra for about thirty couples.

SIGMA CHI

Red leaves, pine, laurel, and corn stalks all were present in the beautiful autumn decorations for the Sigma Chi fall party, which was held on Saturday evening, November fifth. A harvest moon shone down on the dancers as they glided back and forth in the moonlight. The music was furnished by Nelson Maples' Orchestra of Clarksburg. The programme consisted of twelve dances and two extra and a light lunch was served during intermission.

Uunsually elaborate details marked the spring party given Saturday evening, March 25 by members of the Sigma Chi fraternity at their home on North High Street.

The decorations were unique, the large fraternity room being overhung with a black canopy, generously sprinkled with stars. One end of the room was illuminated by a large moon set in an improvised sky,, while the other end of the room was lighted by a large Sigma Chi Cross.

The diners were seated in this room at sixteen tables, each containing appointments for four guests, and being lighted by candles. To permit dancing between courses the tables were arranged in cabaret style with a large space in the center of th room.

At nine o'clock the tables were cleared away and the dance programme started. During the program, which consisted of fourteen dances, fruit punch was served from "the old oaken bucket" hanging in a rustic well, quaintly constructed on the large back porch. The music by Foley's Keystone Serenaders, of Ellwood City, Pa., was especially pleasing.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

On the evening of Saturday,, December 3rd, the members of the West Virginia Beta Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon held their annual fall party at the Chapter House on Wilson avenue. This party was counted as one of the most successful ever held by the fraternity, about fifty couples being present. The decorations were one of the distinctive features of the party. The walls were mostly covered by huge bunches of laurel while the ceilings were obscured by tissue streamers through which the lights shed a reddish, golden glow. A program of ten dances and two extras was rendered by Schroeder's Orchestra of five pieces. A light buffet luncheon was served near midnight.

The Laurel.

A SENIOR HONORARY SOCIETY

Founded at West Virginia University April 2, 1919

The purpose of The Laurel is to encourage and recognize leadership in student activities among the women of West Virginia University. In the spring of each year such Junior women as have become eligible by activity in student affairs will be chosen to membership. The organization will strive to promote movements for the best interests of the State and for general student life at West Virginia University.

HISTORY

Prologue: Bro. Socrates once said: "Cows may come and cows may go, but BULL goes on forever."

Recent excavations around ancient structures have brought to light some very valuable manuscripts which partially reveal the early history of this fraternity. A large part of these manuscripts have, as yet, baffled all attempts of expert decipherers but this much has been made clear: That the ancients whose names are known to-day were primarily Fi Baters and that their subjects for which they are now considered famous were of secondary importance. Archimedes, Socrates, Brutus, and Caesar were well known members in their time and Caesar's death is attributed to the jealousy of Brutus when Ceasar was elected L. H. C. P. by a small majority, leaving Brutus as the defeated candidate. Consequently elections from then on have been conducted so the candidates are face to face when the results are announced, thereby decreasing the number of fatal accidents.

The seal which is represented here is a replica of a stone carving found among the ruins of Babylon whence it was carried by the brothers on the night of the disaster. Its origin beyond this point is vague. The prominent place given here to the BULL commemorates the action taken by Bro. Noah in assigning the state room of the Ark to the bull.

The growth of the society has been slow but steady, due to the fact that the requirements set down by the ancients for membership are very stringent and made particularly difficult since the reign of Volstead, who, by the way, was the recipient of a large juicy raspberry, donated anonymously, but attributed to the Fi Baters.

Our motto is "Every Man for Himself" and our fraternity has no objects, no desires, and no expectations, which makes us immune to disappointment, thereby causing distress among the members of the faculty whose minds fail to function above 59

The bath-robe has its significance and is only worn on rare occasions. In former days it was an excellent curtain for an overburdened hip pocket, and is still used to cover a multitude of sins.

West Virginia University Concert Company.

SEASON 1921-1922.

For the first time in the history of the University, the Alumni and friends of the school were given an opportunity to hear a company composed of students and former students in concert, and the response which greeted the artists of the company on every one of its appearances, is something upon which the people of the state may look with justified pride.

Director Black, of the School of Music, under whose direction the concerts were arranged and prepared, may well be proud of the success of this, the first season of the West Virinia University Concert Company. The need for such an organization grew out of the numerous requests from Alumni in various parts of the state for some such organization which was representative of the school, and which could bring to the people of the state a concert which would compare favorably with any of the various lyceum companies available for concert work.

With this in mind a definite program was decided upon, and the individuals who composed the company were selected. The members were: Mrs. Edna-Leyman Morris, contralto; Miss Lucille Smith, soprano; Miss Alma Martin, accompanist; and the members of the University male quartette: Robert Helman, first tenor; Edar O. Barrett, second tenor; C. Frederick Schroeder, Jr., baritone; S. Price, bass.

Concerts were given during the early part of December in Elkins, Parsons and Thomas. The press reports for these concerts, as well as those given in Cumberland, Md., Keyser and Grafton, W. Va., during the last of January, were in every sense flattering, but to those who were fortunate to hear this company in concert work, too much cannot be said of the splendid performances given, and the skill and artistic atmosphere that characterized the appearance of these young artists.

In addition to the tours just mentioned, the company appeared several times in Morgantown as the guests of Rotary and other well known organizations. A concert was also given in Fairmont on the night of March 23, to a very enthusiastic audience composed principally of musical people, and their comment to the effect that the company was in no way inferior to any of the professional companies to visit Fairmont in recent years, speaks well for the company.

The shcool is justly proud of these artists, and to Director Black particularly do the students and friends of the University feel indebted for the type of performance which reflects great credit upon Director Black.

As to the prospects for next season, little can be definitely said at this time, but certainly the fine spirit and worth of such an organization will not be allowed to be lost, and the host of friends of the company are anxiously waiting the good things to come to them next year.

Purpose of the Association:

The ideal which the "Y" has constantly before it is to bring every student into an intimate relation with God through Jesus Christ. In so doing, the practical side of religion is continually emphasized. The "Y" strives to make religion something real—something that a student can take with him into the classroom and into his social life and be bettered thereby.

In order to provide opportunities through which the student's religious life may broaden out, the "Y" carries on a diversified program both on the University campus and in the neighboring community. By taking part in one or more of these activities, the student is enabled to strengthen his own life by service for others.

Organization:

The work of the Association is carried on through various committees, and a Student Cabinet consisting of the elected officers and the chairmen of the various committees. A group of faculty members and local business men form an Advisory Board whose duty it is to render advice to the student cabinet on the larger problems of policy and procedure. The whole work is under the supervision of the General Secretary.

Mandolin Club.

The Mandolin Club, although an old institution in West Virginia University, has, in the past few years disappeared because of the general disruption caused by the World War. The last club of this kind was in 1917.

It was revived this year and, along with other organizations with a similar history is now going strong. On account of the obstacles confronting its development, the natural outcome of the reconstruction period through which the country is now going the club has not had the career it would have liked to have had. However, it has made several very creditable appearances in this and other states and has great hopes for the future.

American Institute Electrical Engineers.

West Virginia University Branch

The West Virginia University Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers is one of the sixty-two Student branches. This branch was organized January 7, 1915 under the direction of Professor V. Karapetoff of Cornell University and Professor W. E. Dickimson, then head of the department of Electrical Engineering of West Virginia University.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers was founded in 1884, with the following objects in view: The advancement of the theory and practice of electrical engineering; the maintenance of a high professional standing among its members and the development of the individual engineer. To this end it publishes the Journal of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, in which are papers dealing with the latest technical data and information along electrical engineering lines.

THE COACHING STAFF

Football.

W. V. U. was represented during the 1921 football season by an eleven that established a mark little open to criticism in view of the many obstacles it had to overcome as the season progressed. The team met with occacional reverses but local enthusiasts were well pleased with the showing made by the eleven, remembering that a new system of coaching was being put into operation.

We were indeed fortunate in securing Dr. C. W. "Fats" Spears of Dartmouth as head coach. His success was remarkable when measured in proportion to the numerous problems facing him at the beginning of the training season. The material was perhaps as good as any we have ever had but it was quite an undertaking to teach them the style of football that Spears brought here. During the entire three weeks of training at Deer Park Coach Spears and his assistants drilled the men incessantly in the fundamentals and finer points of the game that tended to form a super-physical machine with which to begin the season.

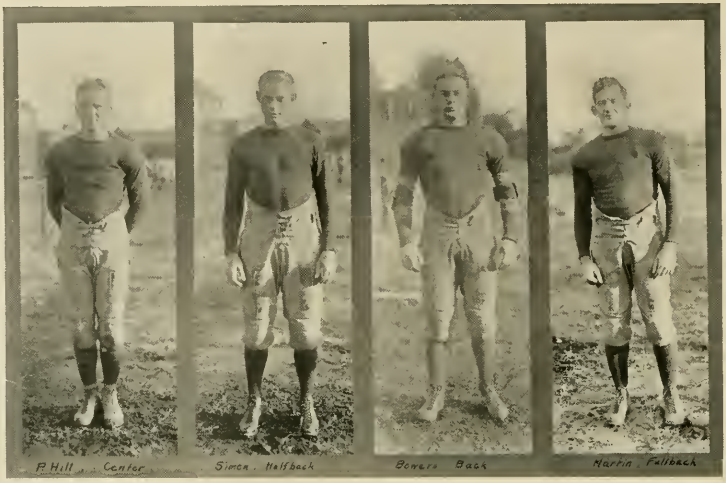
The new system set forth soon began to gain favor among the players and the resulting benefits were astonishing. Never before had local fans been able to back a team that was so well versed in the rudiments of the game and that understood the technical points to such a degree of efficiency. Instead of taking things for granted and suffering incalculable loss later in the year, Coach Spears made his elementary instruction the basis for the early training. Followers of the Mountaineers were amazed at the amount of spirit and pep that remained with each individual member of the squad during the whole season.

Football.

The Mountaineers got off to a flying start on September 24, in the opening game with her old rival, Wesleyan. They marched on the field with that same confidence and fight that always develops when these two teams meet. From the first sound of the referee's whistle it was our game, the only uncertainty being the size of the final score. This defeat of the Methodists by the score of 35 to 3 added new stamina and vigor to the players and to the most ardent admirers it left a feeling of confidence foreshadowed by a season of success.

Probably the most crucial contests were with Pittsburgh, W. & J. and W. & L. The team journeyed to Pittsburgh on October 8th, accompanied by hundreds of students, all with the firm determination to down the Panthers. The men fought with every ounce of energy until the final whistle, Pitt winning 21 to 13. To the casual observer and broad minded fan this defeat was by no means a disgrace, as the opponent had a veteran combination and one which made an enviable record during the season. George Hill's great work was the outstanding feature of this contest.

That all-important contest with the Mountaineers' most bitter rival, W. and L., was staged in Charleston on November 5th. This game was an objective to which the coaches and players had pointed from the beginning of the season and everyone was primed for the Southerners. With the interested public this game was a toss-up between the two schools, but it took only a short time to show that we were superior and we won easily by the score of 28 to 7.



W. and J. played the big game of the year at Morgantown on Thanksgiving Day. This eleven came here with the sole purpose of closing the season without having lost a game. The Old Gold and Blue warriors trotted on the field that day with all the odds against them but ready and determined to give their opponents a real battle. It resulted in a battle not soon to be forgotten by the crowd of ten thousand that packed the "splinter stadium." However, the Presidents, with a defensive and offensive machine seldom equalled in collegiate circles, came out victors by the score of 13 to 0.

In addition to these contests the Mountaineers met the University of Cincinnati on October 1 and it was in this game that the team first showed its real strength, every man playing a star game, the final score being 50 to 0. Victories were also chalked up over Ohio University and the University of Virginia, while Bucknell was held to a tie score.

Lehigh scored a 21 to 14 Victor over the Mountaineers at South Bethlehem. It was an earned victory and no alibis are attempted but West Virginia was considerably off form and lacked the punch and fight that was so obvious in previous encounters. The worst reverse of the season occurred when Rutgers trounced the Mountaineers 17 to 7. This was a real surprise and one which the fans have been slow to forget because the Old Gold and Blue outfit was far superior to their Eastern rivals.

The season did not close with the establishment of any new record but it cannot be called anything else but a successful campaign when considering the handicap and the strong schedule that was played. Coach Spears was ably assisted throughout the season by a number of first class substitutes.

Captain "Bob" Kay will be lost to the team this coming year but will be here in the capacity of assistant coach and should prove a very capable aid to head coach Spears. "Bob" was always a hard and conscientious worker and his most valuable asset was his ability to keep up the morale of the players on the field and keep them fighting.

To lead the team of 1922 Russell Meredith, who played tackle on this year's eleven, has been chosen. A wiser selection could hardly have been made as "Russ" possesses all the qualities of a real leader and his value as a player is hard to match.

The Mountaineers are looking forward to a high class team next fall with the return of Coach Spears and the added services of many of this year's Freshman stars.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The Freshman football season started a week later than the Varsity. Real activity began on October 1 when D. and E. was met at Elkins. This initial battle proved somewhat disastrous for the plebes but it is no way due to poor coaching or inferior material. The short period of practice and the large number of candidates to try out was mostly responsible for this defeat. However Coach Lanham continued to work with the squad which finally showed that it was a real team.

The "Little Mountaineers" have an unusual record to boast of. After getting off to a miserable start they surprised their most ardent supporters by staging the greatest comeback ever credited to any West Virginia team. Results show that Coach Lanham's agreation achieved the seemingly impossible and turned what appeared to be a disastrous season into a campaign equally as successful as that enjoyed by the 1920 Freshmen.

Basket Ball

F. H. Stadsvold ..... Coach
Clem Kiger ..... Captain
H. B. Davis ..... Manager

Basketball.

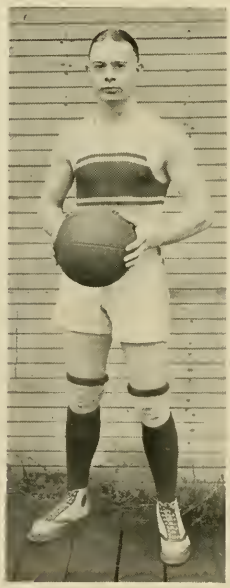
Represented by a team that individually eclipsed any floor machine that ever carried West Virginia's colors in basketball the 1922 quintet did not enjoy near the degree of success of former teams. This cannot be attributed to but one cause—the team merely "going to pieces" after several members had been stricken with the "flu" while on the eastern trip. The coaching, material and everything essential to success was on hand, only the insurmountable barrier—illness—interfered.

The Mountaineers started off with a great rush and won all of the first five games played, Grove City College and Washington and Jefferson being among the early season victims. Everything pointed towards the tri-state title, the Varsity showing rare form in each of these games and the smooth-running machine easily out-classing the opposition. In a hard fought game at the Motor Square Garden Pitt managed to break the Varsity's winning streak, but the margin of victory was so small that an easy victory in a return game seemed certain.

Pitt's victory did not change the attitude of the local fans and the prospects were still very encouraging until Coach Stadsvold took his proteges on the annual eastern trip. The first game on this jaunt was played against Washington and Lee at Huntington, W. Va. The Generals were all primed for the contest and were favored to win, but the Mountaineers were in top form and walked away with an easy 36-16 victory. It was after this splendid victory that the Varsity's hopes of a successful season were blasted. One by one members of the team were taken ill and bfore the trip ended four regulars had been forced to leave the squad and return home, the student manager, H. B. Davis, having been called upon to play in the final game against Princeton. With her stars out of the lineup West Virginia was easy for Georgetown, Pennsylvania, the Army, City College of New York and Princeton.

This hazardous trip left the squad in poor condition for the remainder of the season. The men never fully recuperated and won but two of the eight games remaining on their schedule after their return.

In spite of all these reverses the team was able to turn in some important wins, splitting even with Grove City, Washington and Jefferson, and Wesleyan, and copping the only game played with her old rival, Washington and Lee. Geneva College and Westminster were also easy victims, while Marietta was trounced by a very one-sided score.



The personnel of the squad would have delighted any coach, Captain "Clem" Kiger was the scoring ace and was largely responsible for the "pep" and fight that was so characteristic of the whole team—even in the closing games. Kiger was named as center on the first tri-state team by many critics and was undoubtedly the best pivot man West Virginia has ever had. "Doug" Bowers shared individual honors with Kiger, having been piced as guard on the second tri-state mythical quintet. Bowers played a hard and consistent game thoughout the whole campaign and was considered by many to be the most valuable man on the squad.

Captain Kiger, Martin and Geo. Hill have completed four years of collegiate competition and will not be available for next year, but with Captain-elect Bowers, Pierre Hill, Fuccy, Hawkings, Hawley, Bartell, Heizer and others as a nucleus Coach Stadsvold should turn out a formidable aggregation next winter.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

This year Coach Cartnell had quite a task in selecting a suitable combination from the limited and inexperienced material on the Freshman squad. By virtue of hard work and good co-operation he finally succeded in moulding together a five that looked good for a successful season. Prospects seemed bright and finishing touches were being added in preparation for a successful invasion against all opponents when all plans were ruined by the low scholastic standing of some of the stars.

With these men out of the lineup the "Little Mountaineers" were in somewhat the same fix as the Varsity and as a result turned in a record that was far inferior to the plebes' records of previous years. The men seemed to progress as the season drew to a close and in the last games pleyed a brand of basketball little open to criticism.

Baseball

Baseball.

When the season opened it looked as though West Virginia would be represented on the diamond this spring by a nine that would equal in strength any team the University has ever supported. Although this is only Coach Rodgers second year as head coach of the Moutaineers his methods are well-established and he has been getting excellent results. Present indications point to a successfull season and there is little doubt but hat the Varsity willl retain the tri-state title it copped last summer.

With only two men, Joe Harrick and Madeira lost from the 1921 squad the prospects of a successful season are very bright. The team won four of the first five games played only to lose seven of the nine games on the southern trip. The jinx that camps on the trail of the Mountaneers whenver they take trips outside of the tri-state section was largely responsible the 'Varsity dropping five games to inferior teams.

At this writing the Mountaineers are back in their own clime for the remainder of the season and with every member of the squad in good condition the prospects are bright. All of the 1921 hurlers are on the staff again and while these men will bear the greater part of the burden Tallman and Lyall are always ready to take a turn on the hill. During the "weeding out" process Coach Rogers uncovered some good material, inclulding "Ike" Mowrey, a big Freshman first-sacker. Captain Martin, Turkovich, Wright, Weik, Lytle, Steve Harrick, Mayfield, Hopke, Evans, Woods and Lemley are all in splendid condition for a whirlwind finish that will bring the sectional honors to Morgantown again.

The complete schedule follows:

April 7 and 8—Duquense University at Morgantown.

Wrestling

H. B. Dayton ..... Coach
Scott Hough ..... Captain
Fred Schlens ..... Manager

Wrestling.

This year the Mountaineers sent forth a wrestling team which made a reputation for itself that will remain for years a source of pride and joy in the heart of every red-blooded Mountaineer. The showing of the team is the more remarkable on account of the fact that wrestling is the youngest sport here and was only introduced two years ago. Under the competent tutelage of Coach R. B. Dayton the squad has become one of the strongest and abllest in the east.

After the most satisfactory results in last season's matches a schedule was arranged this year by which the public could judge the real strength of the team. The feats accomplished in the matches received a great deal of comment and praise.

The team successfully started the season with a decisive win over Ohio University at the Ark on January 13. This was followed by an easy victory over Virginia and another win over Ohio. Following this came the season's first reverse, when the team journeyed west to meet the champions of that section. The showing was not a discreditable one at all, considering the class of opponents with their longer experience and the inability of Turkovich to participate in the match on account of sickness. The University of Indiana came here for a match on February 25, and it was truly the match of the year. The result was in doubt from beginning to end, the final score being 14 to 13. W. and L. and the University of Pennsylvania were defeated in decisive contests, while the Navy swamped the 'Varsity in one of the closing matches.

Wrestling.

Captain "Scotty" Hough, leading the Mountaineers for the second time, had another great year. He was a consistent winner and always added his share of points to the Mountaineer score. Many critics claim him the best 125-pound wrestler in collegiate circles. Scotty will be back again next year to take the measure of all opponents in his class.

C. E. Pitsenberger has been elected captain of the team for 1922-1923 and is a tough proposition for any 175-pound opponent—this can be verified from the results of his matches this year. He lost but one contest and this one by a short time advantage that his opponent gained early in the match.

Joe Harrick and Turkovich of this year's team are the only ones that will be lost from the team for next year. These two men will be badly missed and their places will be hard to fill but Coach Dayton is quite apt at solving just such problems and local enthusiasts are prone to predict a champion team for next year.

Track

Nate Cartnell.....Coach
Rufus Lazelle.....Captain
W. D. Stump.....Manager

West Virginia has every reason to expect an excellent showing in track and fielld athletics this spring, notwithstanding the fact that Coach Cartmell has to depend on his new material for most of his strength. These new candidates are somewhat inexperienced but in pre-season tryouts lived up to their scholastic reputations and many fans are very optimistic over the prospects. With these men helping the members of last year's squad the Mountaineer cinder path performers should meet with more than a little success.

The men started working early in March and have been improving slowly, being handicapped by lack of training facilities and cold weather. Coach Cartmell gave individual attention to each man in the first several weeks of practice and the results of his thorough instruction are being felt. From indications the field events will be West Virginia's forte, allthough Charlton Davies, Bogess, Grant Hall and other sprinters are showing good form.

The season opened on May sixth, when the Mountaineers had little trouble downing their old rivals, Washington and Jefferson College, in a dual meet by the score of 83 to 52. This victory was followed by another triumph over Marietta in a dual meet.

In addition to these two meets a very representative schedule has been mapped out for the present campaign. Meets have been arranged with the strong teams in the tri-state district. The complete schedule follows:

April 26—University Tryout, Morgantown.

May 6—Washington and Jefferson, Margantown.

May 13—Marietta College at Marietta, O.

May 20—U. P. Inter-Coll. Pitssburgh, Pa.

May 27—Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, Pa.

June 3—U. of Pittsburgh at Margantown.

Tennis

H. L. Mumma ..... Coach
E. A. Coffman ..... Captain

Tennis is a branch of spring athletics that is rapidly coming to the front at West Virginia. There has been a tendency for the sport fans to consider it a slow and uninteresting game, but with the development of first-class teams this idea is rapidly departing.

Too much credit cannot be given Coach H. L. Mumma for the numerous individual stars and splendid teams that he has developed during his tutelage here. This is one form of sport that prep schools do not support and consequently men have to be mostly developed after entering the University. One has only to glance at the record of last year's team to realize how well Coach Mumma has succeeded in developing this new and inexperienced material. This year he will be without the services of many men who won honors for themselves on last spring's team but it is a safe bet to predict that new stars will turn up to fill these vacancies.

Last year's Varsity squad closed the season with a very impressive record which is still recalled as a notable accomplishment by every Mountaineer enthusiast. Local fans are expecting a duplication of the feat again this spring and are confident that West Virginia will be represented by a team which can uphold the honor of her previous teams on the courts. The candidates first reported when the indoor contest began. With this as a forerunner the men began active training and are hard at work in preparation for the early season encounters. Practice on the outdoor courts has been somewhat hindered by unfavorable weather and their first encounter with the strong team from Lehigh found the team on the courts with having had only one practice on the turf. This team ranks with the best in the East and had two stars that will have very litle trouble in bagging the most of their matches. The Mountaineers were defeated by the score of 4 to 2, but Coach Mumma was very favorably impress with their early season form. Captain Coffman, Cutright, Hutchins, Donnally, Kelly and Olmstead compose the team.

SEPTEMBER

Oh! how sad to remember
That vacation days are o'er
That it is now September
When studying is a bore.

19—The predominating color on the campus this fall is green. Did you ever see so many of them. Only Jack Hare's unchangeable frown can take the vividness from their verdant hue.
In the midst of all the green, registration and rushing is begun. Rushing receives prominence over the registration.
21—First thuse held. Russ Bailey, Heavener and Farmer greet the student body with a "pep-up" speech. Bob Kay makes sensational appeal to college spirit.
23—President Trotter and "Fat" Spears address the "Mixers" in the Armory. Dancing tabooed on moral principles.
24—W. V. U.'s new steam roller with "Fat" Spears at the helm overwhelms the Wesleyanies 35-3.
25—Student body petitions for the reinstatement of Carl Beck. Ban put on class fighting.
27—All of the fraternities come out with a list of their pledges. Light eating and good table manners are necessary qualifications this year.
Grant Hall elected as president of the Freshman class.
28—Book store complications reach their climax. Some one wants to know who "Foxie" Stewart is. Never heard of him.
31—Cincinnati is held scoreless by the W. V. U. team. Freshmen win cane rush from Sophs. Bloody noses are the only reminders of the class fights of by-gone years.

OCTOBER

6—Dr. Bert Holmes Hite of University faculty dies in Baltimore hospital.
7—Sororities announce pledges.
8—Mountaineers fall before Pitt Panthers 21-13. George Hill makes sensational 92-yard run.
14—State Board of Control arrives on inspection trip.
1,200 students thuse on the atheletic field. Parade of all the schools.
15—W. V. U. downs Ohio University. George Hill makes another sprint of 52 yards.
16—Dear Callahan has auto accident. No bones broken. He will still be able to dispute excuses of other people having accidents.
17—Miss Moore is fined $6.50 by the Reedsville mayor for speeding on their main thoroughfare. These faculty members are surelly getting speedy in their old days.
25—Dr. A. R. Whitehill passes away.
29—Lehigh beats W. V. U. 21-14.
First University dance. The girls at the "hennery" are allowed to sign out for the first time this year.
Inez Davis announces her engagement to Ted Neff. Good-bye, Ted.

A Gateway to Progress

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories—tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battle ships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millons, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electricol tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.

NOVEMBER

3—Press Club oranizes.

5—W. V. U. wins over W. and L., 28-7.

Sigma Chis and Phi Kaps have their semester parties.

7—The University student body declares a holiday. Dr. Callahan turns out to head the parade. Big day.

11—Miraculous! President Trotter grants full holiday in order that the student body may celebrate Armistice Day properly. Dr. Trotter was out of town and wired Prof. Hare about the holiday. Prof. Hare was so stunned that he forgot to announce the holiday until the night before.

12—Phi Kappa Psi entertain all the Greek letter fraternity pledges with smoker.

First Cadet hop.

Mountaineers defeat Old Dominion warriors 7-0. University advertises for school spirit to support team.

Mid-semesters start.

18—Fi Baters hold their fall entertainment at their chapter house on the avenue. Volatile refreshments were served until a late hour. "The Finger Nail Polishers Five" furnished the music for the occasion.

19—Pi Phis and Alpha Theta Zetas entertain with their semester dances.

24—Rain—Rain—Rain—Isn't it funny how it always rains on Thanksgiving Day. The Homecoming Day parade was a success in spite of the rain and the football game was a delight to all who saw it even though we did get licked. We made a lot of money on the game anyway. Always look on the bright side of things.

25—Another miracle. The young ladies of Woman's Hall entertained their young gentlemen from the hours of 8:00 to 10:20 playing the rousing games of "winkum" and "drop the handkerchief." The girls up there are getting too many privileges.

26—University matinee dance.

DECEMBER

3—Phi Kappa Psis and Kappa Sigmas hold their semester dances.

9—Cadet hop at the aromry.

Phi Sigma Nu preps end week at hilarious initiation. The main scene of action was the graveyard. No spooks were seen but the spirit of Sir John Barleycorn was walking.

10—Enter the arctics. Every honest-to-goodness flapper has a pair.

Questionaire on morals circulated on the campus. Not many girls can make a passing grade. One sweet young thing wants to know what a "petting party" is.

12—Fourteen initiates ascend the "Mountain." Athenaeum room shows results. Dr. Reed for the first time this year loses his temper and says "I'm going to tell the President."

16—Dramatic Club presents "The Brat."

Resolutions in Beck's case presented to University authorities.

17—Kappa Alpha, Beta, Sigma Nu, and Phi Sigs hold their semester parties.

21—Torch and Serpent dance.

"Awful" Lakin took the fated vows today. We number him among the departed.

Christmas Vacation starts today.

JANUARY

2—The fun is all over. Not a thing to look forward to until the summer vacation comes again. Christmas vacation has taken her toll. With sighs and regrets we announce the burial of our dear school mate Addie Bachman who took unto herself a husband during the happy season. Poor old "Judge" Hiner did the same trick. It's getting so you can't trust any one any more.

10—Delta Sigma Sigme granted Delta Gamma charter.
Kappa Psi, medical fraternity established here.

12—City police authorities fasten trash baskets to telephone poles with lock and chain to prevent students from stealing them. Students feel that their rights have been infringed upon.

13—Governor Morgan sees wrestling match and becomes a real Fi Batar. The Fi Batars think that if they can induce Prof. John Harrington Cox to join that they will have the cream of the state.

13—Farmer's Club Week begins.

17—President Trotter leaves to attend board meeting at Charleston.

18—Six Freshmen lost their hair today at the hand of the vigilance committee. That old green cropping out again.

21—Second Pan-Hellenic dance.

22—Library becomes popular just before mid-semester time.

24—Anathema appears. One state editor remarks that for illustrations The Anathema puts "Whiz Bang" in the class of the Christian Advocate.

27—Examinations are now in full progress. This time next week some of our most dearly beloved may not be with us due to the complication of some of the answers they are putting forth this week. May Dean Callahan be merciful.

FEBRUARY

6—The Military Ball and wasn't it grand. But there were so many strange people there that most of us didn't feel at home. As some one has suggested before, wouldn't it be a good idea to have the state run a special train to accommodate our guests on the occasion of important social affairs?

10—Dean Callahan tells the Brittanica Encyclopedia all about West Virginia University.

11—Just as we expected, a number of the brethren are with us no more. Dean Callahan and Prof. Hare are getting "riled."

11—Woman's Hall was agreeably surprised by the visit of ayoung K. A. Prep who insisted upon spending the night on the third floor. Only by the persistent efforts of Miss Moore was Mr. Prep. prevailed upon to betake himself from the abode of the young ladies.

14—"Tommie" Morris speaks to the Press Club at a banquet in the Old Home Tea Room.

15—As a wedding present to the University Offut Lakin gives The Athenaeum two Remington typewriters. Won't somebody else get married and contribute some news.

18—General University dance.
University wins basket ball game from Wesleyan 20-3.
National organizations hold initiation ceremonies.

MARCH

1—Dr. Reese and Dr. Waggoner debate on the subject of evolution.
3—University girl's debating team loses two debates to Ohio Wesleyan and George Washington.
6—Jackson's Mills chosen as football training camp for the University team.
7—The Moonshine makes its first appearance. And now the trouble begins.
8—Jack Hare appeared in the hall this morning on a pair of crutches. We cannot find out whether he has been in a fight or just has the gout again. A number of opinions have been circulated.
16—Harvard man on University faculty comments on the "Noah's Ark music and clod-hopper dancing at the University."
18—Third Cadet hop.
"Shifters" movement sweeps the campus.
20—Irene Stanhagen and Joe Fleming went and got married.

THE COLLEGE HUMORISTS CREED

I BELIEVE:

That, first of all, I am by far the funniest person in the world.

* * *

That all Freshmen are dumb and should be the source of at least two-thirds of my jokes.

* * *

That all professors are absent-minded.

* * *

That all co-eds show more of their anatomy than they ought to, but want them to continue.

* * *

That all girls are crazy about the quarter-back on the baseball team.

* * *

That all medical students will kill their patients when they finally start practicing.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN!

CANTO I.

'Twas the night after Chinches
And all through the house
Every Beta was spying
Save those on a souse.
All the frosh without clothing
Who'd not worked as they'd aughter
Were waiting their turn for
The cold, icy water.
When down in the phone room
I heard such a clatter
I sprang to my feet to
See what was the matter;
And from the receiver
Came the voice of a maid:
"I'm a Chi Omega lady!
Now, listen," she said.
"Please," she continued,
"You know I'm not flirtin'—
But as gentelmen kindly,
Sir, pull down that curtain;
We're all of us ladies,
Though we are Chi Omega's
And a lady can't help see-
Ing things that she sees!"

CANTO II.

'Twas the night after pledging
Sorority roses,
Chi Omega all through pheeding
Were changing their clotheses.
Some in chemises—
Some nothing at all,
Were just primping up
For a long evening ball.
When down in the phone room
There came such a clatter
One hurried down for
A tete-a tete chatter.
When from the receiver
Came the voice of a man:
"I'm a poor Beta froshy,"
The shy words began;
"But please," he continued
To this eager maid,
"Our consicence must prompt us,
So pull down that shade!
We're gentlemen brothers,
Though Beta's we be,
And we can't quite help seeing
The things that we see."

CHEMICALLY PURE

Said Atom unto molecule,
"Will you unite with me?"
But Molecule did quick retort,
"There's no affinity."

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN———

We celebrated the W. and L. victory?
The sun shined so "bright" on our Homecoming parade?
We didn't beat W. and J.
Someone turned a cow "out" to pasture in Woodburn Hall?
We got Sunday off for Easter?
The man from Harvard showed us how to dance?
Max Donner got his hair cut?
Bill Marsh got his finger cut while carving a "hick"?
Fuzzy Knight couldn't "shimmy"?
The clock used to run on Woodburn Hall?
Evolution was a pup?
Jurk "vamped" the man from University of Penn?
You were taken into the "Shifter"?
John Harrington Cox was taken in the Fi Baters?
Lilly Belle sang "I love you, I love you, I love you———"?
The co-eds used to hide some of their beauty?
9775 wasn't busy?
Fraternity Row was paved?
The "stags" had a matinee session in the armory?

———* * *———

Manslaughter me with kisses, daddy, then crucify me with love.

———* * *———

Stude—"Was the dance a success?"
Stewed—"Yes, roughly speaking."
